EISLEBEN QUIET, CITY IS NOW IN HANDS OF POLICE

American Newspaper Men Subjected to Questioning

POLICE BLAME ENGLISH PAPERS FOR TROUBLE

(By The Associated Press)
Halle, Germany, March 28.—Eisleben is quiet and the town is under control of the police. Reports from Bitterfeld say the authorities have suppressed the revolt. The only fighting has been near Sangerhausen, where a workmen's armored train was held up and an engagement ensued, a few men being killed or wounded. The workmen still control Leuna, the police showing no intention of attacking them, for fear they will fulfill their threat to blow up big factories.

At Halle, the situation is quiet, this being due, according to the police, to postponement of the Communist plans, which provided for the capture of the surrounding towns first. The intention then was to march into Halle and gain control of this strategic and industrial center. The police are not ready to say that the Communist movement has failed and are still nervous over the outlook.

Halle Cut Off From World
Later in the day Halle was cut off from virtually every line of communication except to Berlin, by police, who instituted rigorous control of all activities in an effort to check agitation by alleged Russian Bolsheviks, who, they say, are numerous here.

Congregation in the streets of more than three persons, was forbidden, and there were wholesale arrests of suspects.

The Associated Press correspondent and two other American reporters and one Englishman were placed under arrest for the second time, while entering the headquarters where they had been several times. They were sent to district police headquarters under guard and examined for three hours.

Newspapermen Examined
The papers of the newspapermen were scrutinized for suspected forgeries, their speech was examined for signs of Russian accent and their opinions were solicited to determine if they had radical sympathies. When they entered the room, conversing in English, a respectfully uniformed sergeant called out sternly: "Speak German here."

The correspondents, paying no attention to this order, a young officer appeared and said: "Follow me."

"Where are you?" was asked, and he replied, tapping his chest, "Here I am; follow me."

The correspondents followed and were subjected to a cross-examination regarding other newspapermen, who were reported to have made Bolshevik speeches. Finally they were permitted to proceed when the German authorities were convinced they had no intention of giving aid to agents of the enemy.

Another arrest occurred as the correspondents were calling on a Communist leader and caused a long harangue, during which the police authorities attacked the English press as partly responsible for the present situation here because of its anti-party attitudes. Strangers are shadowed at every move and the police are in possession of the most minute details concerning every visitor.

FROST DAMAGED CERTAIN FRUITS

George H. Hall Says Peaches Are Killed—Some Oats and Clover Injured.

It will take some little time to tell just exactly amount of damage done by the freezing weather. The stories as to temperature yesterday varied from 18 to 22 above zero. Certain it is the cold was severe, following such an unusual period of spring weather.

According to George H. Hall, weather observer in Alexander, there is no question but that peaches have been killed. This said statement has doubt applies to plums, but the opinion prevails that apple trees were not far enough advanced to be injured.

On some farms oats were injured. This applied to fields where the young plants were just coming thru the ground. In fields more recently planted and others with the plants further advanced, there was no damage. It is also believed that some young clover was frosted.

to Prison

MANY OTHERS ARE UNDER DETENTION

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 28.—Efforts to release about 50 Americans held in Soviet Russia are being made by the state department thru unidentified agencies, according to information given today to Senator Heflin, of Alabama who has made inquiries in behalf of Emmett Kilpatrick, said to have been sentenced to 20 years' imprisonment at Moscow.

Of the fifty Americans held, Senator Heflin was informed about six or eight including Kilpatrick are reported in prison. Others were said to be under detention. Kilpatrick, a former Red Cross agent is said to have been accused of serving with the armed forces of Lithuania against the Soviet government and of being in the employ of the United States government. He is a native of Uniontown, Ala.

Efforts of the state department thru Dr. Fridolf Nansen to procure Kilpatrick's release have proved fruitless.

Reports from Bolshevik sources it was said today, have said today, have stated that Kilpatrick was suffering from no ill effects of imprisonment and that he was in good health.

VETERINARY IS CHARGED WITH MURDER OF GIRL

Accused of Sending Prescription to Girl Before Her Death

RELATIVES OF DOCTOR DENY THE CHARGE

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, Ill., March 28.—Dr. J. H. Nichols, a veterinary surgeon, today was charged with murder, in connection with the death of Miss Ethel Crume, 23, who died yesterday, after taking a prescription said to have been sent her by Dr. Nichols. Attempts to find Dr. Nichols tonight failed.

The coroner today searched Miss Crume's room and found letters which, he said, had a bearing on the case. One, according to the coroner, was written to Dr. Nichols by Miss Crume but had not been mailed. She was quoted as telling the doctor in this letter that she would take the medicine he had sent her Sunday if she felt no better then.

According to Miss Crume's family, she was to marry the doctor April 3. Dr. Nichols relatives denied this and charged Miss Crume had tried to force a marriage.

The result of the post mortem examination and the report of the state chemist at Springfield as to the nature of the medicine taken by Miss Crume will be made known when the coroner's inquest is held. The letter found in the dead woman's room probably will be read then.

RAILROAD LABOR BOARD DISMISSES EMPLOYEES PETITION

Short Line Men Ask Trunk Line Wages and Working Conditions

MAY STILL NEGOTIATE OWN AGREEMENTS

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, March 28.—The petition of 4,000 employees on 67 "short line" railroads for wages and working conditions identical with those on the trunk lines of the country was dismissed by the railroad labor board today. The case was heard last fall on the request of fifteen unions that the wage scales and national working agreements on the standard railroads be applied to the short lines.

Because of the diversified duties of the short line employees, the board declared it was "impracticable to determine what reasonable rules shall be on the short lines," and without a uniform classification of work, the board declared it could not undertake to determine reasonable wages.

Originally 103 carriers, employing from 25 to 400 men, were parties to the dispute. Ten electric lines were dismissed and 22 others applied the wage scales of the trunk lines, eliminating them from the case. Under the decision employees and carriers may still negotiate their own agreements on wages or working conditions, but the decision stipulated that it should not be considered as affecting any wage increase now in effect nor any agreement regarding wages between any carrier and its employees.

INTERPRETATION OF WORD INCOME IS PASSED UPON

Supreme Court De- cides Case in Favor of Government

KEY CASE SELECTED WAS FROM ILLINOIS

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 28.—Three victories were won by the government today in the supreme court interpretation of the term "income" for the assessment of taxes under the income and excess profits act.

The court held that any gain derived from corporate securities or corporate assets, and any increase in the value of capital investment, when realized is taxable as income. In each case the opinion was endorsed by the entire court.

Solicitor General Frierson, who was present to hear the opinions read interpreted them as upholding in every particular the contentions of the government. He believed limitation of problems involved in cases decided today would go far toward relieving treasury department of inconveniences it has suffered.

The court before recessing until April 11, advanced to that date hearing of arguments in the insurance, tax case. The first involves taxation of dividends applied as partial payment to insurance premiums, the second applied to stock received from re-organization of a corporation—in this case the DuPont Powder company and the last whether inheritance may be deducted from taxable income.

"Key Case" From Illinois.
The "Key Case" selected by the court for decision today was the appeal brought by the merchants loan and trust company as trustee of the estate of Arthur Ryerson of Chicago from decisions of Illinois courts upholding assessments levied by internal revenue officials upon profits realized thru the sale of certain trust assets. Included in the trust fund were 9500 shares of stock in Joseph T. Ryerson and son, a corporation which were valued at $561,000 on March 1, 1913, but which were sold in 1917 for $1,250,000. Collection of a tax on the difference in value between March 1913, and the date of sale as income, was upheld by the supreme court in a case under the corporation excise tax act of 1919, Justice Clark said, as "a gain derived from capital, from labor or from both combined."

This definition, the opinion continued, "includes an addition in the latest income tax decision (Elsner vs. Macomber) which is especially significant in its application to such a case as we have here. The definition was then to read: 'Income may be defined as a gain derived from capital, from labor, or from both combined, provided it be understood to include profits gained thru sale or conversion of capital assets.'

"It is obvious that unless this definition be modified it rules the case at bar. Since the fund so taxed was the amount realized from the sale of stock in 1917, less the capital investment as of March 1, 1913, it is palpable that it was a 'gain or profit,' 'produced by' or 'derived from' that investment, and thereby became the 'realized' gain which has been repeatedly declared to be taxable income within the meaning of the constitutional amendment and the acts of Congress."

The opinion quickly dismissed a contention that the "income" as used in the 16th amendment did not include the gain realized by a single transaction but only profits realized by one engaged in buying and selling as a business.

The reasoning used in the case of the Ryerson estate was held to cover fully the court's decision in the appeal brought by David M. Goodrich of New York, involving taxation of profits on investment capital except that in one instance Mr. Goodrich showed an actual loss from the price he had paid for the securities.

The ruling of the tax assessors that the value as of March 1, 1913, which was below the cost price in 1912 and the subsequent sale price in 1916, only would be considered was reversed by the supreme court.

In the third case settled today (Walsh, Collectors vs. Brewster) the same points were considered. Decision of Connecticut courts that the government could not collect a tax on an increase in the value of securities purchased and held for investment was reversed, the supreme court again making the point that the tax could only be collected where the proceeds showed a profit over the purchase price.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 28.—Governor Hyde, a Republican, today signed the judicial reorganizing bill, which legislatures seven Democratic circuit judges out of office and authorizes him to appoint their successors. The governor also signed the workmen's compensation bill.

Nothing will be done with the railroad until the representatives of the people in the Senate and House have rendered their judgment in the form of legislation. The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee is making an intensive study of the question, and the bill that will be introduced with its approval will be dictated by the real necessities of the situation.

SPEEDING UP.
It is a small matter to many of us, no doubt, still it is symptomatic of our change to a business Administration. On March 19th the advance sheet showing our foreign trade for February was made public. This is just one month earlier than the Department of Commerce under the Democratic Administration published its advance sheet. Furthermore, the new sheet gives the figures in tabular form so that the reader can see at a glance just what the totals are for February for the month preceding, for the eight months ended February, 1921, and for the eight months ended February, 1920. That is what you call quick work.

TEACH CHILDREN TRAFFIC RULES.
In the schools of Cleveland, Ohio, a course of instruction in traffic rules is given the small children in order to avoid their being injured in crossing streets. Lines are being drawn on the school room floor to represent car tracks and the sidewalks; one child with a semaphore represents the traffic policeman and other children represent automobiles. It wouldn't be a bad idea to start such a school for grown-ups here in Jacksonville. Some of them seem unfamiliar with state and city traffic regulations.

The figures show that the average age of the men in President Harding's cabinet is 54. If there is anything in the term "seasoned" the new president will have the advice of men who have accumulated something of wisdom thru passing years.

Wonder has often been expressed over the great fortune of $27,000,000 that the late Mr. Woolworth accumulated thru his chain of 100 stores. Perhaps the showing of the Ford Automobile Co. is just as marvelous, for all the stock is owned by Mr. Ford, his wife and son and the last statement sets forth a value of $384,000,000—a huge sum accumulated from the sale of the lowest priced car on the market.

The tariff once more takes its place as the leading issue of the country. It is not the "paramount" issue. Writers on this big subject agree that changing business conditions have brought about different view points among leaders in big business. This change is due particularly to the fact that for the first time the U. S. is a creditor nation and heavy purchases from abroad would be most desirable. The old slogans of "Protection for infant industries" and "Tariff for revenue only" evidently must be revised.

According to estimates prepared by the Department of Agriculture at Washington, farm land values in the United States decreased 7 per cent during the period from March 1, 1920, to March 1 of this year.

Values in 1920 were the highest in the history of the United States, prices having increased during the war until the average American acre of plow land was worth in excess of $90. In 1914, when the heavy advance began, the average price for the entire country was $52.94. The great jump was made in 1919, when speculation in farm land was rife in various sections of the country. The decrease shown this year is to some extent the deflation of fictitious values created by the speculation, but not all the drop can be accounted for in this manner.

In the state of Iowa, where the governor found it necessary to issue warnings against price inflation, the $219 value of a year ago shows a shrinkage of less than $20. California, Oregon and Colorado show an increase during the year.

Greatest depression is shown in the south, where inaction attending the drop in cotton and tobacco has played havoc with planters and resulted in much land being thrown on the market. The south prospered wonderfully during the war and it suffered most severely when the demand for its chief crops fell off. In Kentucky and Georgia the depreciation in land values last year exceeded 20 per cent.

There has been some depreciation in land values in this section, but the quotations are not of particular significance. The speculation which increased paper value did not greatly affect this territory. Most of the transfers were recorded during the last period of peak prices hereabouts were made to farmers who desired to increase their holdings. The land was paid for in cash and it is not now on the market. To buy it would require more than was paid for most of this land.

This situation obtains in practically all well developed agricultural communities which escaped the wild-cat speculative fever. New values created during the war are holding in sections, and it is not likely that they will fall much below existing figures.

There will be further squeezing of the watered values created in 1919, and more grief for those who secured poor land when prices were high, but the indications are that the slump is about over. Good land is worth the money now asked for it.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR AT EASTER SERVICE

Hospitaller Commandery Heard Sermon By Rev. Mr. Langton—Memorials at Trinity Blessed In Impressive Service.

Sunday was a notable day at Trinity Episcopal church and the attendance was large at the four services. The churchy beauty of the new edifice was enhanced by the liberal use of Easter lilies and foliage plants.

At the 10:30 a. m. service the rector, Rev. J. F. Langton blessed three memorials, assisted by H. M. Andre, senior warden, and Dr. J. G. Ames, junior warden. These memorials are a priest's chair given by the members of the family of the late Dr. John D. Easter, rector of Trinity parish, 1875 to 1889; a credence table given by J. Parker Doan and family in memory of his mother, Mrs. Frank Doan; a silver bowl for altar service given by Mrs. W. K. Dewey and Miss Emily Dunlap in memory of their sister, Miss Caroline Ross.

Members of Hospitaller Commandery No. 31, Knights Templar, W. L. Shible, commander, attended the service at 3 o'clock. Sir Knight Julius Strawn conducting the service on behalf of the Knights. The sermon by Rev. Mr. Langton was on "The Vision of the Risen Christ," as seen by St. Paul on the road to Damascus. The text was from St. Paul's defense before King Agrippa, "Wherefore O King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the Heavenly vision." Acts 26:19.

It was one of the most forceful sermons that the knights of Hospitaller Commandery have heard, emphasizing the thought that there must be vision for the life that goes forward and upward and that the spiritual warfare for righteousness is unending.

Mr. Langton with dramatic phrasing and forceful eloquence pictured the vision that transformed St. Paul's life. Then he quoted from Old and New Testaments to show how visions have shaped other lives that the world has known as great. Then he mentioned the vision touched lives of Savonarola, Dante and Huss. Turning to more modern times, he held up as examples of men with vision Garibaldi, Mazzini, Lincoln and Roosevelt. He spoke especially of the great Roosevelt aspiration for social justice to all mankind.

With Knights Templar as auditors, the minister naturally turned to the scenes from the Crusades and said that they had not failed for they had beaten back the Mohammedan advance, saved Europe and furnished the inspiration for some of the great cathedrals.

A fitting tribute was paid the purpose of the order, as the minister presented the picture of Godfrey de Bouillon at the head of the Knights entering Jerusalem and refusing to wear a crown of gold in the city where the Savior had worn a crown of thorns. Then he presented that imposing picture of recent years, when Sir Knight Allenby, commanding the allied armies, entered the Holy City on foot without pomp or pageantry proclaiming liberty and justice for Mohammedan, Jew and Christian alike.

Then in closing the minister went on to show that most battles for Christ do not come thru war and bloodshed but thru the works of mercy and of love.

OPERETTA STAGED AT HIGH SCHOOL

"Polished Pebbles" Was Given Fine Presentation Before Large Audience.

The big auditorium at the David Prince school was filled last night when "Polished Pebbles" the high school operetta, was presented. The proceeds were for the equipment of the boys and girls' club house established by the Rotary club on Meredith bay, and patronage was so large that a goodly sum was realized.

Miss Lena Hopper, director of music in the public schools, had charge of this presentation, assisted by Miss Emma Leonard. The program was one which gave full proof of the excellence of the work done in preparation. The excellent cast included the following:

Uncle Bob John Hackett
Mrs. O'Brien Clara Smith
Rosalee Lois Harney
Winifred Ruth Reynolds
Millicent Catherine Alexander
Mrs. Gabbie Eunice Harer
Mr. Gabbie Lee Baldwin
Martha Virginia Cummings
Nick Ollie Parker
Boy Farrell Crabtree
Pianist—Miss Ruth Wilkinson
Violin—Mr. Neuhauser, Lyndell Conboy, Kathryn Morris, Elizabeth Scott.

Sunbonnet Girls—Elizabeth Boruff, Mary Ethel Hamilton, Helen Kamm, Florence Bentley, Maude Eva Hackett, Marietta Deenges, Ethel Cornick, Dorothy Cully, Margaret Piepenbring, Vivian Wyatt, Garneda Phelps.
Overalls Boys—George Adams, Edward Alexander, George Oberste, Marion Parker, Barney Greenfield, Paul Bolman, Russell Dunlap, James Dunlap, Elliott Mutch, Harold Kamm, Harold Cockin.

A brief synopsis of the operetta follows:

A wealthy country gentleman, Uncle Bob, gave his sister, Mrs. O'Brien, $5,000 to use in educating her two daughters and her niece. Instead, she goes to the city and in a short time spends all of her money on finery and city entertainments for herself and her two daughters, leaving her niece at home to do the housework. They return after they have spent all the money and ignore their plain country neighbors. After some misunderstandings they are forced to give up their city clothes and city airs and become just plain country people like their neighbors.

AUTOMOTIVE DEALERS FAVOR LANDING FIELD

Committee Named at Monday Night Dinner to Work for Project—Mr. Robertson Talked Flying as a Commercial Proposition.

The Jacksonville Automotive Dealers association held its regular monthly meeting Monday night at the Dunlap hotel with practically its entire membership present. The meeting was preceded by a six o'clock banquet, the table being spread in the private dining room of the hotel. This room has just been newly painted and re-decorated making an admirable place for such functions. The meal was up to the association's usual standard, and well served under the personal direction of Manager John Rule.

The guest of the association Monday evening was William Robertson of the Robertson Bros. Aircraft corporation of St. Louis, who has been carrying up passengers in Jacksonville during the last week. He was introduced by President Claus who briefly explained the objects of Mr. Robertson's visit. Mr. Robertson thanked the association for its invitation to meet with them and for the opportunity to talk with them. He outlined that his object in stopping in Jacksonville which had been at the request of Hutson Bros., was to introduce flying as a purely commercial proposition and to show how it would be of incalculable future benefit to our city.

Aviation, he stated, has passed the critical experimental stage and has come to stay just as did the automobile only faster, and now only needed public sentiment and backing in the way of providing suitable landing fields. It was explained how the government at present is sending out to all aviators a weekly bulletin showing landing places and that these were being added to at the rate of ten or more weekly; that the way to get Jacksonville on the map as an air station was to take action at once. Mr. Robertson told of the air mail service in operation between St. Louis and Chicago, operating daily regardless of weather conditions. He told how France and other parts of Europe had become thoroughly crossed and recrossed by air routes and explained what a benefit this was in speeding up business.

"Landing fields," said Mr. Robertson, "are as necessary to airplanes as good roads to the auto. These fields should be located at from 75 to 150 miles apart, in level fields, at some distance from trees, buildings, fences or other obstructions that make hazardous landing and taking off as right here is where practically all accidents occur and which would be avoided if fields were clear and suitably marked. The planes themselves now are safe. In many places the city itself is making the necessary provisions while in others it is done by some public spirited citizens or by a group of citizens. The St. Louis field was provided by the city. A plane does no damage to a field, which may be planted to alfalfa or other, similar crop."

Gay Hutson, representing Hutson Bros., spoke also relative to Jacksonville's needs. He stated his firm had purchased an airplane from Robertson Bros., and told how it was their desire to promote aviation meets in this city during the summer, giving exhibitions of bombing, parachute drops, etc., as is now being done on other fields.

Following a general discussion of the matter it was voted by the association to get solidly behind the proposition of securing a suitable landing field for Jacksonville and to arrange the formation of an aviation club. President Claus appointed as a committee to investigate and co-operate with Messrs. Robertson and report, Messrs. Strawn, Deppe, McNamara, Hutson and George Lukeman.

Vice President Deppe, a member of the aviation committee, stated he had taken a flight with Mr. Robertson and from new on was an enthusiastic booster for the commercial airplane and a landing field which would place Jacksonville on the aviator's map of the United States.

There followed a general discussion of the used car market and what should be the proper and fair course for dealers to pursue. C. M. Sprawn stated that he recently had taken in an old car on a trade and found that he could not sell it. Mr. Berger said that he had a fur coat and a violin that had come to him in a trade and he would give them for the car. The deal was made.

BRICK PAVEMENT PROJECT IN WHITE HALL.

White Hall, March 28.—A public hearing on the proposal to construct brick paving from the south line of Carlinville north along Main street to the northern corporate limits of the city has been called to be held in the city hall at 9 o'clock a. m. next Wednesday. The improvement is figured at $116,861.36.

The hearing will be conducted by the board of local improvements, consisting of F. N. McFarren, A. L. Vermillion and H. L. Caldwell. Much opposition is evident on account of the high cost of construction at this time, many taking the view that the paving is not needed until the state hard road comes this way, and the state has discontinued roads construction for the present on account of excessive costs. Notices of this public hearing have already been circulated.

J. HERMAN

MAKING LATIN ALIVE

Many Jacksonville people knew P. J. Downing when he was a member of the faculty of Bout college here and will be interested to know of his successful work in New York City.

Mr. Downing married Miss Lona Howe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Howe of this city.

The New York Times recently had an interesting article based on Mr. Downing's work. It is reproduced in part as follows:

There are at least two men in New York who see no reason why Latin should be a dead language. One is Clement Lawrence Smith, head of the Lawrence Smith School, New York City, the other, P. J. Downing, Ph. D., who teaches Latin here. Both have had many years' experience teaching the language of Caesar and Cicero and can see no reason why boys studying it should look up on it as mere drudgery. They resolved to make the Latin hours not only advantageous to the boys of their school from an educational standpoint, but also amusing and stimulating.

First they looked into the so-called "direct method" of teaching Latin, but, after mature deliberation, discarded it. The direct method seeks to arouse interest by teaching boys how to say ordinary sentences like "Come here" and "Please hand me that book" in Latin. But, argued Mr. Smith, such a method does not prepare boys for reading Caesar and the like—knowledge of how to say "Come here" is of no particular use to any one seeking the meaning of "Gallia est omnis divisa" or trying to reconstruct in English that awful bridge across the Rhine which Julius Caesar described in most intricate Latin.

Then Mr. Downing hit upon a sort of compromise between the old and direct methods. He evolved a question-and-answer scheme, coming in with Latin plays to be given by the boys under his tutelage, and it was adopted with enthusiasm by Mr. Smith for his school. A few days ago Mr. Downing's Latin classes, consisting of boys of from 11 to 13 years of age, gave three playlets written by him, won enthusiastic approval from parents, sisters, cousins and aunts assembled as audience, and thus brought to a successful end another phase of the campaign of Messrs. Smith and Downing to put life into what is a dead language elsewhere.

The Downing-Smith method seeks, first, to arouse interest in Latin among the boys studying it by unrolling their lessons into a sort of story-telling hour. The teacher chooses a subject in which, say, words of the first declension play the most important part. He starts describing the adventures of a "puella," or girl. Her story is told in little couplets, easily remembered. The boys memorize, for instance: "Puella est in ora, nata est in prora." meaning: "The girl is on the shore, the sailor is in the bow." The boys also draw pictures on the blackboard of the girl and the shore, the sailor and the ship. Subsequently, the "puella" ventures further along the shore and falls in with a lion, a most discourteous beast, who tries to devour her. All this, too—attractively set forth in first declension nouns—is depicted by pupils on the board. The shrieks of the "puella" bring the heroic sailor to her aid. He disposes of the lion, escorts the girl to a nearby villa, and all ends happily.

"The interest with which boys follow the lesson when it is given this way is simply remarkable," said Lawrence Smith, in describing the method. "After a while, the constant succession of questions and answers gives them a quite a Latin vocabulary, and soon they are able to ask their own questions regarding the lessons."

"So great is the boys' interest that I have often found them talking to each other in Latin during the recess hour. And when we are getting ready to give our Latin plays they often call each other by their names in the plays and talk with each other as if they were really the characters of the plays and not everyday American boys."

"At home, too, they continued their interest in the Latin lessons. One boy, after returning home from school, insisted that his father be the 'puella' or girl of the girl-sailor-lion story unfolded by Mr. Downing in his Latin class, while the boy himself took the part of the gallant 'nauta' and saved his parent from the blood-thirsty lion."

"Boys grounded in Latin by this method acquire a genuine interest in it, so that when they go to more advanced schools and to college they approach Caesar, Cicero and the rest of the Latin classics in a far different spirit than if they had been taught by the old methods."

After the boys of the school have received instruction in their classes along the lines set forth above they are ready for the further stimulation of the Latin playlets which are a feature of each school year. These are written by Mr. Downing himself and are ingeniously built upon the tales of antiquity, which the boys have met in the course of their lessons. This year there were three plays, the first supposedly a rehearsal by boys of ancient Rome of the play given last year by the boys of the school. The second play told of the labor of Hercules. Hercules appeared in person and narrated to the king at Corinth the great deeds which he had performed in expiation of his crimes, while parents, relatives, friends and schoolmates of the actors listened with breathless attention and admired the leopard skin of Hercules (aged 12), the fine purple robes and glittering crown of the king (who seemed to take a humorous view of the whole ceremony), and the long spears, formidable shields and heavy armor of the attendant warriors.

FRUIT CROP INJURED IN GREENE COUNTY

Inspection Indicated Peach and Plum Trees Only One Damaged—Last Year's Storm Recalled.

WHITE HALL, March 28.—Speculation is rife as to build-ups on the last extension of the effect on fruit of the Easter storm, the official minimum temperature at this point being 19 degrees. Reports from the apple districts northwest of White Hall are not altogether discouraging, except as to peaches and plums, which are believed to be killed. There is a criterion from the Easter blizzard of last year, which may be of some value at this time. Then the official minimum temperature reading was eight degrees, and the leading apple growers stated that great damage had been done, but the crop turned out to be excellent, both as to apples and peaches. It must

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. RICKARD GETS TWO OFFERS FOR FIGHT

Comes From Nevada Mining Camp — Other From London.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Two offers of sites for the Dempsey-Carpenter heavyweight championship were made to Protector Tex Rickard today. One came from a Nevada silver mining camp and guaranteed the sum of $800,000. If Rickard would stage the contest there July 4. The other was presented by a London syndicate and included a half million dollar offer if the bout could be held during derby week.

Rickard took the offers under consideration and said a final decision might be expected during the present week.

From authoritative sources it was learned that Rickard has no intention of holding the match in any isolated section if a site close to the metropolis is available. The expense attendant upon a boxing bout of this caliber is so great that only a large center of population to draw from would warrant the erection of an arena, capable of seating the number of spectators necessary for the purse involved. Reports were current today that the contest would be held in New Jersey and both Newark and Jersey City were named as probable sites for the arena.

Former Champion Is Near Defeat.

New York, March 26.—S. Howard Voshell, twice holder of the national indoor tennis singles championship narrowly missed becoming the victim of a reversal in the second round of the tournament today. The famous left-hander was being outplayed by J. L. Werner, the Princeton star when the fading light caused a postponement of the battle after each had won a set.

In the other important matches of the second round, Vincent Richards by sizzling cross-courts overwhelmed Percy L. Knayston, 6-4, 6-3, and George G. Moore Jr. defeated Russell A. Dana, former Rhode Island star 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

AMERICA MEETING RECONSTRUCTION

Englishman Says Country Is Far in Advance of England in This Respect—Says Many are Accepting Reduction in Wages

London—America is dealing with the problem of reconstruction and the restoration of trade more energetically and more successfully than is the case in England, Sir Algernon Firth, former president of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce declares in a Times interview. Sir Algernon has returned recently from his 51st visit to the United States.

Among factors cited as to American advantage in the situation, the British business man states, were a more rapid reduction of values than in England and co-operation of labor in reducing the costs of production. Mill workers in the United States, he said, are accepting wage reductions of as much as 33 1-3 per cent in order to enable manufacturers to turn out goods at prices which the public would pay.

He said if this movement went much further it would mean that the United States would soon be in strong position in that matter of exporting goods and would be able to secure business that would otherwise come to Great Britain.

American hours of work were about the same as those in England, he stated, but the men worked much harder while they were in the mills.

Sir Algernon expressed an opinion that trade would improve in America toward April, based on the fact that bottom prices were being reached, promising restored confidence and increased buying. He urged open and frank dealing with Americans and co-operation between the two nations. He said he did not attach much importance to the question of tariffs because of the creditor position of the United States.

GEORGE ESTLER DIES HERE TUESDAY MORNING

George Estler a resident of Greene county died at Our Savior's hospital at 1:30 o'clock this (Tuesday) morning. He was brought to the hospital Monday and submitted to an operation for appendicitis and the resultant shock caused death as the disease had gained too much headway.

Mr. Thomas followed the occupation of farming and until two years ago lived in the vicinity of Manchester. The last two years he has resided eight miles south-east of Roodhouse.

TURN FROM MOVIES TO PUBLIC LIBRARY

New Yorkers Now Frequent Libraries—Use in Employment Turned From Pictures to Reading—Not So Expensive.

NEW YORK.—By The Associated Press.—Unemployment and lower wages are serving to make New York increasingly literary. A drift from the moving picture theatres seems perceptible.

These are the statements which come from officials of the city's public libraries, who declare that a new phenomenon has been observed—crowding of branch libraries during the morning hours as well as during the afternoon and evening.

The recent rapid increase in the patronage of the branch libraries is attributed chiefly to unemployment and to lower wages.

The two years preceding last October had been marked by a decrease in the demand for books at the branches altho the normal increase continued at the main library. Library officials hesitated to give any explanation for this situation. They remarked that both increases and decreases in library attendance in other cities of the country had been laid to high wages.

The conclusion that economic conditions had a direct bearing upon library patronage was forced upon them by the flocking of men into the branches at the inception of the industrial depression.

Most of Greater New York's branch libraries are crowded these days from the time of the opening at 9 a. m., to the time of the closing at 9 p. m. At the main library building on Fifth avenue overcrowding is chronic. The facilities have been overtaxed for the last five years, library officials say.

Can't Keep Pace With Growth.

"It is inherent in any public utility service in New York that it should be outgrown before it is ready for use," said one of the library officials. "We want to be beyond the saturation point. If the library buildings were extended to cover Bryant Square all the seats would probably be occupied as soon as the addition was completed."

So great has been the demand for books at the branches with the resultant wear and tear that the total of the volumes in the 44 branches in Manhattan, the Bronx and Richmond—the jurisdiction of the New York Public Library—is actually decreasing a reduction in the appropriation for purchase of books has been coincident with the increase in the use of the branch library facilities.

The main building of the New York public library is open every day of the year, and except for Christmas, Fourth of July and Labor Day, there is an even greater demand for its facilities on holidays than at other times. Frequently in the largest in the world, one of the 890 seats is occupied.

Besides the 2,000 to 3,000 readers, 7,000 visitors daily pass thru the corridors of the main library. Here are Washington's own copy of his Farewell Address, a draft of the Declaration of Independence in Jefferson's handwriting and a letter written by Columbus telling of the Discovery of America.

GET TOGETHER MEETING TO BE HELD BY FARMERS

Will Endeavor to Unite on Agricultural Program

MANY THINGS OF INTEREST TO COME UP

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 28.—A "get-together meeting" of farmers' organizations represented here today, was announced for April 14, at which it was said an effort would be made to unite upon an agricultural program for recommendation to President Harding and congress.

Lower freight rates, tariff and revenue legislation, more liberal extension of credits, regulations of future grain exchanges, and extension of the co-operative and marketing associations are some of the matters which, it was said, will probably be considered.

The American Farm Bureau Federation has announced a meeting of its executive committee and one member from each state in Washington beginning April 11, when a legislative program will be discussed. The National Farmers' Union has called a meeting here for April 20.

ARE OPPOSED TO JAPANESE TREATY

New Zealand and Australia Do Not Want England to Sign Another Treaty—Want Islands to Remain White Man's Country.

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—New Zealand and Australia says Sir John Findlay are strongly opposed to the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty and he wants the home government to bear that fact in mind when the question of the renewal of the treaty comes up for settlement.

Sir John is one of the leading statesmen of New Zealand. With Sir Joseph Ward he represented New Zealand at the last Imperial Conference in 1911. He is now again in London.

"The people of Australia and New Zealand have made up their minds that their islands must remain a white man's country," he says in the Pall Mall and Globe. "This is not my opinion merely; it is a national conviction. They do not want emigrants from China, Japan or India. The color bar is definitely fixed and is a fundamental feature of our Constitution. We want the British Empire to recognize that fact and to respect it."

"It is apparently difficult for the government of the mother country, and possibly for the people, to realize how great is the color question with us New Zealanders and Australians. The Chinese come to us in small numbers and we want their numbers to diminish rather than increase."

"The Japanese are a more aggressive people and constitute our greatest menace. We want the imperial government to understand this more thoroughly than it does. The Japanese peril is there all the time."

"It has now come to this: New Zealand and Australia—for in this matter we are all of one mind—object emphatically to the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese treaty. When that treaty was made there was some excuse for it. Russia was threatening India, while Germany was threatening Europe and America was too much concerned with the Monroe Doctrine to be depended on. The German and the Russian menace are now removed and as for America, she is now ready to make a common cause with us over the Japanese peril. So there is no justification for a continuance of an undesirable treaty."

"The subject came up before the last Imperial Conference and in the coming conference I have every reason to believe it will be one of the most important questions for consideration. This time it will have to be thrashed out thoroughly."

INTEREST SHOWN IN STATE POLICE BILLS

Trained Policemen for All Counties Proposed—System Successful in Other States.

The state police bill which provides for a highway policing system all thru the state has the endorsement of the Illinois Bankers association and the Illinois Agricultural association. A statement recently issued sets forth the following about the pending legislation:

Senate Bill No. 55 and House Bill No. 116 would create a Department of State Police of approximately 250 men and officers. This force would be distributed over the state in small units of three or four men in each unit. In this way a network of police would be established thru which it will be difficult for crooks to escape. That a force of this number of well-trained men will get results is proven by the reports of the State Police in other states where they are operating. In New York there are 232 men and officers in the organization. During 1920 they made 11,000 arrests and of those arrested, secured 94.6 per cent of convictions. This was an average of 50 arrests for each member of the force.

It cost $500,000 for their expenses during the year. During that period they confiscated $225,000 worth of opium, seized $500,000 worth of liquor, recovered more than $550,000 of stolen property and collected $70,000 in fines.

In other words, apart from the protection and aid the riders gave to the rural communities, they brought in nearly $1,300,000 on an initial outlay of $500,000. And yet some people say such a force in Illinois would be without value. By horse and motor vehicle they patrolled more than 900,000 miles of rural highways, making them safe for the public. They paid more than 23,000 visits to towns and villages throughout the state. They made also 2,500 investigations of complaints where no arrests were made.

Road Patrol. Governor Lowden, in his last annual message to the General Assembly said:

"Several hundred miles of modern roads have been completed, and many hundred miles more soon will be added. This means not only better and cheaper transportation for rural communities, but it also exposes them to injuries by the lawless. For with the automobile and the modern road, the criminal may now commit his depredations in a rural community with greatly increased chance of escape. The time has come, therefore, when a rural police force is greatly needed in Illinois. There are additional reasons for such a force. The state system of good roads must be patrolled to see that the state law with reference to speed and with reference to the kind of truck that may be used under the law shall be enforced. This state force could also inspect such roads, reporting promptly any slight defect which by neglect might result in serious injury to the roads. It also could discover those who are using cars and trucks without license, and thus add greatly to the receipts of the state from this source. The Secretary of State estimates that a half million dollars annually might be recovered by such a patrol. Indeed it is not too much to expect that such a force might save directly to the state what it would cost to maintain it, to say nothing of the greater security afforded to the lives and property of our people. I, therefore, strongly urge the creation of such a force."

The New York State Police was organized in August, 1917, and during the first three months turned into the State treasury $350,000 for auto licenses that had prior to that time escaped paying.

Expenses of the Force. It would cost the average farm as now assessed one-half cent per acre on the highest assessed farm lands in the state and from that on down to less than one-fourth cent in other counties. That is, the tax on a 160-acre farm to provide an adequate state police force for Illinois would cost the owner from twenty cents to not over eighty cents on the entire farm. Not much to pay for security and police protection within call of the farmer's family for an entire year. If reduced to a per capita tax, it would be less than 7 cents per each individual in the state. That the State Police would not be an expense, but a revenue producer is shown by the record in New York.

Riot and strikes cost Illinois for expenses of National Guard, within one year:
Chicago Riot $381,811.31
Chicago Strike 19,333.23
Peoria Strike 29,144.79
West Frankfort Riot $430,289.33

Why not have a trained police force on the job all over the state 365 days and nights of the entire year and relieve the National Guard of an inkling and disagreeable tax, securing results at much less expense.

In Pennsylvania the record is equally as good. Out of 10,917 arrests made in 1919 there were 94 per cent convictions.

Two great men of America, one dead, the other living, have spoken in the highest praise of a State Police. Theodore Roosevelt, than whom never lived a better friend of labor, in writing the introduction to the Mayo book, "Justice to All," said: "Year by year the efficiency of the (Penn.) force has increased and its usefulness has correspondingly increased. The sooner all our states adopt similar systems, the better it will be for law and order, and for the upright administration of the laws in the interest of justice throughout the Union."

Major General Leonard Wood says: "I believe thoroughly in the State Police idea as represented in the admirable organization of the state police force of Pennsylvania. I have advocated the adoption of the Pennsylvania system in every part of this country and would welcome it not only for the good of the militia, but for the good of the whole people."

The New Jersey legislature has just established a state police following the example of the adjoining states of New York and Pennsylvania.

False Prophets. People should not be misled by false propaganda that such a force would be inadequate for Illinois. It has been tried in the states mentioned and in Michigan and West Virginia also.

Some years ago some wise people advised the farmer that if hard roads were built in Illinois, their farms would be confiscated to pay for them. They frightened the farmer, and induced him to put up such a "holler" that good roads legislation was put back fifteen years. Now that we see it close up we know any of us and the only trouble is they come too slow. If it had not been for these false prophets crying thru the wilderness we would have built our hard roads at a cost then of $20,000 per mile less than we can now, besides we have been without their use all of this time.

The false prophets would mislead us about a state police. Let us use our own common sense and have a police before the crooks steal all we have, or the bolsheviks and socialists, resorting to mob law, confiscate our property and upset the present order of things. No man who stands for law and order should oppose a state police for Illinois.

Illinois is the third of the great states of the Union, New York and Pennsylvania. The first and second in rank, have sent us an example; they came Michigan and now New Jersey. Can we do less than New Jersey? In 1919 one-third of the bank robberies in the United States were Tired Out?

Do you know that languidness, that "awful tired feeling," heaviness, lame or weak back, sore muscles, stiff or swollen joints, rheumatic pains, lumbago, in the great majority of cases, indicate kidney trouble?

Foley Kidney Pills

act promptly and effectively to restore weak, overworked or diseased kidneys and bladder to a healthy condition. Mrs. Robert Blair, 461 S. 20th Street, Terre Haute, Ind., writes: "I suffered two years with kidney and bladder trouble frequently getting backache. Mornings I would arise feeling very tired and having headaches, and seeing spots before my eyes. I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised and made up my mind to try them. After taking them a few weeks I found my trouble dispelled. The backache stopped and my kidneys were restored to healthy, normal action. I am also free of those tired and aching headaches and my vision is no longer blurred. My recovery is entirely due to Foley Kidney Pills, which I gladly recommend."

committed in Illinois. Cash and Liberty bonds to the amount of $905,000 were stolen. Pay roll robbers and auto bandits have been on a rampage in Illinois. How much longer will we have to submit to these conditions before our legislature gives us something like adequate protection thru the establishment of a Department of State Police?

Agricultural Endorsement. "Many of the Farm Bureaus of Illinois, thru definite resolution of the directors, have recorded their support of the movement for a State Police in Illinois. These directors are truly representative of the farm people of the State. For each county, the board of directors of the County Farm Bureau can be said to represent a real cross-section of the thought and the feeling of the farm people of the county. The act that they are supporting the Legislative Committee on their State Association in its position relative to the State Police bills, means that the farmers of the State are officially for enactment of the necessary legislation."

The Board of Delegates of the Illinois Agricultural Association in their meeting of January 13th and 14th, adopted the following resolution in favor of the State Police Bill: "We recommend to our legislature the enactment of such laws as will give to the people in the rural community just and adequate protection against the depredations of criminals and violators of the law."

That this action of the Board of Delegates has met with the general approval of conny farm bureaus is witnessed by the fact that many of them have taken this up in the meetings of their Executive committees and passed resolutions favoring the State Police.

EASTER SERVICES AT WESTMINSTER CHURCH

The services at Westminster church Sunday were of an especially impressive character. Dr. Thomas Smith at the morning hour of worship preached a sermon appropriate to the Easter season. Eight young people following examination by the session were admitted to church membership and three adults were received by letter.

At the evening service Dr. Smith gave a very informing lecture on "The Cathedral at Rheims." He was stationed there in Y. M. C. A. work for several months following the close of the war and so his address drew upon a vast fund of information, secured in a personal way.

C. W. Taylor operated the stereopticon by which some views were shown. Mrs. Helen Brown Read sang "The Bells of Rheims," adding very much to the effectiveness of the service.

The members of the church are very much gratified to know that Mrs. Read is to again sing regularly in Westminster having cancelled her Springfield engagement because of the difficulty attending the weekly trip to the capital city.

JACKSONVILLE FORTUNATE IN BUSINESS SITUATION

Walter Ayers has recently returned from a two weeks' trip, which took him to Brockton, Mass., for a visit at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Eaton, and later to New York City. Enroute home, Mr. Ayers spent two days with his son, Allan P. Ayers, in Akron, O. Mr. Ayers said yesterday that people hereabouts have not by any means felt the stringency of business conditions as is true in the states to the east. This is particularly true in the great manufacturing centers, for in many of these places the factories are running with only about 25 per cent of the normal number of employees, and great stores of manufactured goods are on hand. The situation gives proof of the statement quite often made that while Jacksonville does not take on the high tide prosperity of some other cities, that the conditions here are much more stable and the city is free from the severe periods of non-employment.

WILL FILL PULPIT AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. A. P. Howells Engaged for Three Months' Period—Coming Here from Arizona Church.

Rev. A. P. Howells will enter upon a three months' pastorate of the First Baptist church, beginning Sunday, April 10. Announcement of this fact was made Sunday, the board of deacons of the church having made the arrangements.

Mr. Howells is well known to a number of local people, as he has occupied the pulpit of the First Baptist church on one or two occasions. He was for a number of years pastor of the Baptist church in Centalla, and more recently has been supplying the church at Douglas, Ariz. He comes to Jacksonville with a fine record in church work and as a pulpit speaker.

This evening a meeting will be held in the basement of the church with the intention of organizing a troop of Boy Scouts. Rev. D. V. Gowdy, who has had wide experience in Scout work, will be present and explain what is necessary in the organization of a troop.

Clara May Fletcher, Beatrice Sargent, Mildred Harvey, Lula Bell, Raymond Allen, Robert Thomas, Paul Galbraith and Edward Ransdale were Easter guests of Harold and Dorothy McDevitt on East Greenwood avenue.

IMPORTED BULL FOR MORGAN COUNTY

Messrs. Reed, Hawker and McDevitt Buy Fine Shorthorn—Selected from Famous Herd in Scotland.

L. A. Reed, S. H. McDevitt and C. L. Hawker have purchased an imported Shorthorn bull from John R. Jones of Williamsville, Illinois. This bull is white and was selected by M. E. Jones in Scotland from the herd of Wm. Anderson, Saphock, Aberdeenshire.

The bull's sire and grand sire were both shown at the Highland Show in Scotland, the greatest show of Shorthorn cattle in the world and both were first prize winners. A half brother to the bull mentioned is now in the herd of Rynus Sees of Stockport, Iowa, and was purchased by them for $12,000.

The men purchasing this bull are endeavoring to solve the problem of permanent soil fertility on their respective farms, and realize that the slogan must be "Fewer but Better Cattle." If the cattle business is to show a profit, Local men who have seen this imported animal are of one mind in believing that Messrs. Reed, McDevitt and Hawker have made a most fortunate purchase. They are certainly doing something worth while for the livestock industry of the county.

COUNCIL TRANSACTS ROUTINE BUSINESS

Session was Brief One Monday Evening — Residents of South Clay Avenue Want Water Main Laid.

Only routine business was transacted at the regular session of the city council Monday, the session being a brief one.

But little business came before the body aside from the ordering of payment of property approved claims and minor matters.

Mayor Crabtree reported that C. W. Fitzsimmons had been seen about the old house on his property at the corner of West Court and North West streets and Mr. Fitzsimmons had said that the house would be removed within a few weeks.

Roll call showed all aldermen present except Ald. Ehnle with Mayor Crabtree presiding. The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

Want Water Main Laid. Citizens of South Clay avenue residing between Superior and Michigan avenues presented a petition asking that water mains be laid in the thoroughfare. Mayor Crabtree said that much as the city would like to grant all these petitions it would be impossible and it was not likely that the city would be in a position in the next ten years to lay any main. He suggested that the citizens be consulted and the situation of the city laid before them and ask if they would not let the main be laid by special taxation.

On motion of Ald. Moore seconded by Ald. Flynn the petition was referred to the water committee.

Mayor Crabtree reported that he had seen C. W. Fitzsimmons relative to the removal of the old residence property at the corner of West Court and North West streets and Mr. Fitzsimmons had told him the property would be wrecked and removed within a few weeks.

Fixing Alley D. Sewer

Engineer H. L. Caldwell reported that he had Sherman Spencer at work on Alley D sewer and he hoped that when he was thru the job would be satisfactory to the property owners.

Superintendent of Streets White said that Mr. Spencer was supposed to turn all the dirt back in the trench after the sewer was laid and relay the brick in as good condition as he found them. This, Mr. White said, Mr. Spencer failed to do and he got tired of seeing the alley in the condition it was in and had done the work and had a bill of the expense which Spencer should pay.

Claims against the city were then presented and all those properly approved were ordered paid.

The ordinance providing a fee of one dollar for issuing permits and licenses was given a second reading but no action was taken, the council deciding to let it lie over until the ordinance regulating licenses was passed.

A resolution providing for the burning of the ballots of the last election was read and adopted and the mayor appointed W. H. Cobb and Frank Kiloran to witness the burning of the ballots as required by the statute.

Ald. Flynn reported that a party had had a boat stolen from Mauvaisterre lake and he wanted that the council pass an ordinance protecting boats left on the lake. It was decided that this was a matter for the park board to consider.

The council then on motion adjourned.

TRINITY CHURCH HAS SPLENDID MUSIC
The splendid music which was heard at the three services at Trinity church on Easter day was such as to inspire the members of the large congregation which heard it. Miss Rose Bellati, as organist, played colorful accompaniments and solos.

The choir, under the able direction of Mrs. Marguerite P. Forrest, sang the beautiful Easter anthems, "As It Began, to Dawn" and "Christ is Risen." At the afternoon service for the Knights Templar Mr. Uriel Gozela sang a solo and at the evening service Mrs. Forrest sang, with great beauty, Tours' "Hymn to the Angels." The evening service was made very effective by the violin obligato, played by Miss Horsburgh. Miss Horsburgh also played a wonderful postlude for the violin. Rarely is it the privilege of Jacksonville people to hear church music of the inspiring and beautiful quality as that which was heard at Trinity on Easter.

Richard Welding was an Easter visitor in the city from Strawn's Crossing.

ILLINOIS PRODUCED SALT IN EARLY DAYS

Documents Establish Fact That Gallatin County Produced Salt in Early Days of Nineteenth Century.

Springfield, Ill., March 28.—Though salt is not produced in Illinois today, old documents published by the Geological Survey of Illinois establish the fact that the production of salt early in the nineteenth century was one of the leading industries of Gallatin county and survived until after the Civil War.

"It is true that salt was evaporated from brine coming from springs and wells along the Saline river in Gallatin county and from a deep well in Perry county many years ago," said F. W. DeWolf, chief of the State Geological Survey Division. "The industry, however, has been dead at both locations for many years now."

Because of its mineral importance, Gallatin county, in the southern end of the county, was established by proclamation of President James Madison, in 1812, and the brine springs were worked under the management of army officers. The government then reserved from sale all lands containing salt springs. The small government reservation constituted an area slightly more than 12 square miles. An almost inexhaustible reservoir of brine was said to underlie its surface, as well as valuable beds of mineral fuel. Profitable brine was found in the county only on the north side of the Saline river, about a mile south of the small town of Equality. This was near what was known as the "Half Moon," a semi-circular excavation 100 yards in diameter and from six to eight feet deep, made by buffalo and other wild animals that congregated in herds to lick the salty earth. The bones of many extinct animals, but mammoth and mastodons, have since been found buried in the soil and around "Half Moon."

The old salt works supplied the needs of the country for 100 miles around. It had standing orders from points in Tennessee, Kentucky and Indiana.

It took from 125 to 280 gallons of brine to produce one bushel of salt. The works employed between 1,000 and 2,000 hands and had a daily production of 80 to 100 bushels.

A large amount of fuel was needed for evaporation purposes and the brine works soon stripped the surrounding country of its timber. Although many of the wells sunk penetrated a five-foot vein of coal about 100 feet below the surface, the records show this was never utilized.

Competition sprang up and ruined the government controlled industry. When salt works were established in Virginia and in Pomeroy, Ohio, the government allowed the Illinois works to lapse into idleness.

Finally, in 1850, the Saline property was purchased by a firm known as Temple & Castles. This company sank new wells and struck stronger brine. By improved processes of evaporation it was able to produce a bushel of salt from 75 gallons of brine and in 1867 was turning from 30 to 40 barrels of salt a day.

This company also discontinued. The records fail to show just when the production of salt in the state ceased to be one of its industries, but it was apparently about 50 years ago.

THREE NATIONAL AGRICULTURAL CONFERENCES

Three of the most important national agricultural conferences of the year are to be held in Chicago on April 5, 6 and 7. On April 5 the fruit growers of the country meet to discuss better marketing plans. This national conference follows a series of fruit marketing and organization meetings in southern Illinois.

On April 6 is the date of the ratification convention of the Committee of Seventeen grain marketing plan. 107 delegates from twenty-five states will consider ratification of the plan.

On April 7 the Committee of Fifteen on live stock marketing holds its second meeting. Since its first meeting in February, the Committee of Fifteen has been busy gathering data and exhibits from all parts of the country. It aims to put out a national live stock marketing plan similar in purpose to the Committee of Seventeen grain marketing plan. The Illinois Agricultural Association is represented by one or more of its officials at each of the three meetings.

PARK BETTERMENTS AT WHITE HALL

Work Will Soon Be Started On New Entrance—Mrs. Griswold Provided Fund.

White Hall, March 28.—Plans have been received for the new entrance at the northeast corner of Whiteside Park, and their interpretation by T. J. Grant to the members of the park board has met with approval. The architect is C. W. Buckingham of Jacksonville, and the work will be started as soon as some additional details are furnished by the architect.

The funds for this entrance were realized from the sale of old buildings on the last extension to the park, aggregating about a thousand dollars. This sum rightfully belonged to the Griswolds, but at the suggestion of Mrs. Griswold, White Hall's greatest benefactor, now in a critical condition at her home, this sum was set aside for a special purpose suggested by the park board, this purpose being an entranceway from the northeast. The plans provide for an arch 16 feet wide, with a 10-foot opening between the pilasters. From the points of the wings extending out from each side of the arch it is 40 feet, each wing running out about 12 feet. The columns are 10 feet high, the total height from the walk to the top of the arch being 14 feet. The walk through the opening will be seven feet wide, at either side of which and between the walk and the columns are an urn three feet high, each having a cement vase two feet in height. The entrance will be 15x10 feet, paved with mat brick in varied colors. Each wing will be three feet high, of face brick, cement coping, with pilasters three feet square, topped off with cement caps. There will be a vase on top of each column, and there will be an ornamental lamp on top of the archway. It is the purpose of the park board to provide a memorial inscription of some sort. It is the opinion that the job will be much more attractive than the present main entrance on the south, which should be moved to the southwest corner to correspond with the new entrance at the northeast corner. It is believed that the work will begin soon as the weather settles.

WOULD DEVELOP AMERICAN MUSIC

New York.—(By The A. P.)—New York has entered the field to develop American orchestral and choral work and conducting, for which America has hitherto been dependent on foreigners.

Plans to develop American talent became known with the announcement that the American Orchestral society, sponsored by Mrs. E. H. Harriman, has been under way. The program provides the founding of a central orchestra of fifty or sixty high class musicians to work in conjunction with neighboring groups of amateurs which also are to be formed.

Promising members of these groups will be given an opportunity to play in the central orchestra and to study conducting under its leader. Counsel and instruction will be given free to members of the local musical bodies.

Founders of the society have announced that it is not designed to enter the concert field or to compete with existing symphony orchestras or institutes of music.

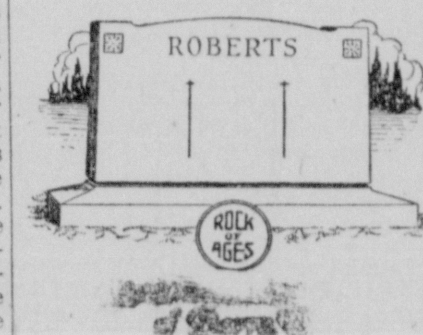

They declare their hope that the society will maintain a supply of American trained musicians by providing them with a high type of ensemble training. They point out that the America now is dependent on foreigners for most of the important conductorships and for the direction of many of her greater musical activities.

COBLENTZ, MARCH GERMANS ESTABLISH HOME

IN FIGURE OF HORSE
P.)—Three Germans of this city solved their housing problem in a queer way until the city authorities caught them at it a few days ago. They had installed themselves inside the giant figure of a horse bearing the statue of William I, which stands at the confluence of the Rhine and Moselle rivers.

They gained entrance to the inside of the horse by discovering a loose plate on one of its sides. Within they installed a bed and laid in a supply of a number of cases of wine and were making themselves very much at home until the authorities dispossessed them.

J. W. Terhune of Winchester made a trip to the city yesterday in the interests of business affairs.

As The Winter Wears Away

"Across the plain the bitter wind Goes sighing with its load of woe."

Paoingfu, China, Feb. 8, 1921
—We are just back after 11 days in the famine stricken region. As one passes along the country as a casual observer
the ravages of famine are not so evident but when he goes out to see just how things are—to see how the poor multitudes behind the screen are living, the horribleness of famine apparent.
During the days in which we were going from house to house on our tours of investigation looking toward relieving what suffering we could, as I approached one house after another, I said, "Is this a place where man dwells?" So dark, so dingy, so desolate, it seemed scarcely possible that human beings could exist there. But to add to the above were the awful pangs of hunger.

This is not all. The family group is broken up. Death has been there. Or the food provider alone or with one or two in the family had gone away to beg,
and now days or weeks had elapsed and there was no word sent back, or money, no ray of hope to encourage the others to live a little longer, a dark picture and a very real one which we met over and over again.

The food, if such it may be called, was chaff, bran, the bark of trees, bean pods, locust tree seeds, ground corn cobs, some few had cabbage leaves. We came upon here and there little handfuls of corn meal, millet, kaoliang, the last had in most instances been given them by our committee thru our school centers. I do not think there was enough of real grain in all the hundreds of homes we visited to properly feed ten families two weeks. We are now in the middle of winter.

We came upon a number of houses torn down in order to get fuel or to sell for grain.
From time to time we would come upon a cleaner, brighter looking, full faced child among the crowds of children, when some one would say, "That boy or that girl is in one of our schools." We have in the Wai hsien district 13 schools of about 100 pupils each.

Many times they would say to us, "You have come to save our lives" or "Please save our lives."
In one large village they said there had been 40 deaths. In another 20 and in still another 16, and so on. It is evident that the death toll is great, and will be greater as the long winter wears away. Do you wonder when I say that many girls, less productive commercially than boys, have been sold to what we may not ask. We were rejoiced to be able to redeem a number from a life of shame, but many were beyond our reach.

Mr. McCartney in a letter to the North China Star, says that "Four-fifths of the hungry host in Hantan famine district must die." Unless awful typhus follows in the wake of famine, I should not think so large a mortality would result, but it is early yet, and the poor people are becoming too weak to withstand any very heavy strain upon them.

The responsibility of the one who determines to whom to give the amount of relief which he has is illustrated as follows:
"What would you do if you saw life passing thru the street, and he could save you, but he decided not to." Whom to save surely is a grave question.

In our investigation we did not see how such is possible unless one remained upon the ground and saw just who ate the grain given. In our investigation we visited as to how many adults there were and how many children.
(We generally insisted on seeing every one) looked everywhere for any possible
ply of grain or flour,
of any kind, inquired and got all possible evidence as to any other source of supply, much as having a ticket which furnished one meal of grain per day, were any of the children in any of our schools, was any other society supplying them with any grain or money. The head man of the village generally conducted us about in the work of investigation and was made to feel the importance of securing a true and full statement.

By the gifts of friends and the board and the authorization of our mission we were able to register carefully the names of about 1000 needy families, the number of adults and children, and to settle upon a monthly amount to be given each family.
We thus added about 5000 persons to the number we were before caring for. We plan to see these people thru to the harvest.
Our Presbyterian mission here in Paoingfu in now caring for about 15,000 and we are adding to the number as funds come in.
But while famine and the famine relief the great and overwhelming themes amongst us, I do not want to leave the impression that we think of nothing else, and that there is but one dismal side to this terrible calamity, for this is not the fact.

The name of the Christian church is spoken of favorably by many in all classes of society.
This is conspicuous. Not only so, but men are buying bibles in large numbers and are reading them as never before here. Still larger numbers who can not buy are listening to the Gospel messages.

I quote from my diary
written two weeks ago, "Monday, Feb. 6th. Yesterday we had a great day, not in giving out of grain, but in worship. It made me think of Korea. We had to have services in relays, and in different centers. Here in the city chapel Mrs. Cunningham had the women who gathered there while Miss Gumbrell had those who gathered in the north suburb, and a Chinese leader had a large company in the South Center. At 11:30 I had the service.
In all we must have had at least 700 different persons at service where formerly we would have had but a few tens. The night meetings were also crowded with attentive listeners. We need not speak of mixed motive. Here is a fine opportunity to get the Gospel message into ears willing to hear." The following Friday we must have had 1,000 people in audience at a center 3 miles south of Wansien, and the following Sunday more than a thousand were in attendance. These things lead us to hope the poor sufferers and their neighbors are not going to suffer the awful horrors of famine in vain. This is our sincere hope.

Not a few well-to-do men are identifying themselves with us in this life-saving work. We value their friendship and they will not come in touch with this movement and the Gospel message
and go away of famine in vain.
This is our sincere hope.

Not a few well-to-do men are identifying themselves with us in

their friendship and they will not
come in touch with this movement and the Gospel message

In Wansien as in many other centers the New Year season leisure is being taken advantage of for the advancing the China for Christ Movement. So all things considered this side of the work of this attitude of mind looks very encouraging.

While there did not seem to be about the absence of motives and signs of idolatry at the Chinese New Year were conspicuous.
This was noticeable over a large area. One man went so far as to say that idolatry would be dead in China in 15 years.

Of course their poverty had much to do with it, but if the people find that they can get on as well as or better without the idol of reality they will hardly go back to the form of slavery again.
Idolatry will lose its power over
them.

It is most interesting and speak a word for the solidarity of the race, the interest being taken, and sympathy shown, ever much of the world for these suffering members of the human family.

Gifts have come to us from many quarters and some bore marks of real self-sacrifice, and had touching words of sympathy.
Chinese boys and girls sent from their meager stock. Church sessions remembered us. A little leper group in Hainan (about twenty in number) sent us $10.
Our missionary colleagues have been most helpful and self-sacrificing in sending to us from their own fund and also in gathering in funds from others and forwarding to us. We have thus been able to save very many otherwise must have perished.

Most sincerely yours in behalf of these sufferers,
A. M. Cunningham.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.
Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which allows you to enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color and 30c.

Is there anything more appetizing than the tantalizing odor of browning pancakes?

FIRST thing in the morning—Umm! Umm! Umm! Great big crisp brown cakes. But the best thing is the delicious thick Karo you pour all over them. It doesn't seem as though you could ever get enough.
Of course you don't have to be told that Karo is what makes the cakes or hot biscuits taste so nice.

But did you ever know that Karo is one of the greatest of all energy producing foods—made in a way that brings out every bit of its goodness and wholesomeness.

You can use Karo for every baking and cooking purpose. You can make the finest, purest candy you ever tasted—fudge, taffy, caramels and lots of other good things from Karo.

Your Protection

Do not be deceived by cans containing syrup that might look like Karo. The name "Karo" is on every can of original Karo—look for it and be assured of full weight cans and highest quality

BLUE Karo

The standard table syrup. Also for cooking, baking and candy making. Light brown color, delicious flavor—a heavy bodied syrup.

Reasons for Reo

CONFIDENCE: Giving the public their money's worth, has been REO's policy for over 16 years
—REO has the confidence of the public.
FINANCE: Because of the soundness of the REO policy—REO has grown to be the second strongest factory financially, in the automobile industry—REO owners know they are safe. There will always be REOS.

REO POWER: REO motors, axles, transmissions, and parts are REO built to REO standards, for REOS
only—they are the best reasons for REO.

DEPRECIATION: Shifting types, changing models and uncertain policy are bound to depreciate value for the owner. REO transportation means slow depreciation for the owner.

SEED CORN—We have had a wonderful season in Mason City
this year for maturing seed corn with the result that we have the finest lot of well dried 1920 crop of seed corn that we have ever grown. This corn is gathered in the fall and placed on drying racks when it is very slowly dried down to twelve or fourteen per cent moisture content.
This gives corn a very high vitality. We have been in the seed corn business in a large way for over thirteen years and have the largest and best equipped drying plant in the world. Our down town plant is in the center of Mason City. It is well worth a trip to Mason City

$3.50 per bushel. Write for

SOCIAL GIVEN BY POINT CHURCH AID
On Friday evening a social was given at Point church by the Ladies' Aid society. There was a large attendance and a splendid program was given by the pupils of the Point school. There was also a reading by Miss Leota Tendick, instrumental music by Mr. Ross Bracewell and sister, also vocal and instrumental music by Mr. Byron Stewart and sister, Miss Edith. A donation of eggs was received for Wesley Memorial hospital. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served by the society.

AMERICAN LEGION NOTES

Maintaining contact with the main body of the American Legion by native runners, a traveling post of the Legion is today moving thru the jungles of Portuguese West Africa. The post is the first on the Dark Continent and its establishment leaves Australia as the only continent which has not been penetrated by the Legion. Twenty-three explorers for oil, headed by Robert H. Wamsley, fell to discussing the war on the trail out of Loanda, Angola and it was discovered that eleven of the number were ex-service men. Wamsley communicated with Akron, O., Post of the Legion, which arranged to obtain the necessary papers from National Headquarters to establish the African post. The explorers will remain in the wilds for three years.

Wisconsin led the other departments of the American Legion in new posts formed during the week ending March 19, chapters having been issued to three posts. Ohio chartered ten units of the Women's Auxiliary and Pennsylvania, nine. There are now 10,297 posts of the Legion and 2,366 units of its Women's Auxiliary.

When the chief of police of Amarillo, Tex., was threatened with death for his efforts in fighting the crime wave in that city, American Legion members formed an auxiliary police force and stood by the chief until the town was cleaned up.

Thomas W. Miller of Delaware is receiving congratulations from members of the American Legion in all parts of the country because of his appointment as Alien Property Custodian by President Harding. Colonel Miller was a member of the Paris caucus of the American Legion in 1919, one of the incorporators of the organization in this country and chairman of the National Legislative Committee of the Legion from June, 1919 to June, 1920. His new job is to look after a billion dollars worth of German and Austrian property in this country taken over by the government when war was declared against the Central Empires.

A protest, alleging "discrimination against postal employees because they served their country during the World War," will be placed before Postmaster General Will Hays by the American Legion, according to Lemuel Boiles, National Adjutant of that organization. The Legion charges that provisions of the act giving war veterans preference in civil service examinations have been ignored. The committee, which will take the matter up with Mr. Hays, will be headed by Theodore Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

To further better understanding between Canadian and American Veterans, representatives of the American Legion Posts at Oswego and Watertown, N. Y., have been invited to attend the annual banquet and celebration of St. Julian's Day, which will be held at Kingston, Ontario April 22 and 23 under the auspices of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada. St. Julian's Day will mark the anniversary of the first poison gas attack, which the Germans made on the Canadians near Ypres. The Legion's action against Boche propaganda was characterized by the Canadian society as "a splendid stand in defense of our common liberties."

Full indorsement of the American Legion has been voted by the Central Labor Union of Willmar, Minn. The resolution, which avers that the aims of the Legion and Organized Labor are

The Georgia Department of the American Legion has just completed a combined membership and service drive that netted about 1,000 new members and 2,000 successfully concluded cases of claims of veterans. The drive took two months. Representatives of the Legion, Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Public Health Service and Federal Board for Vocational Education visited every county in the state and interviewed men who had claims for compensation, education or hospitalization. Former service men who were not members of the Legion benefited equally with Legionnaires.

TO STIMULATE INTEREST IN WAR AWARDS

To complete the issue of the Victory Medal granted by the United States government to American participants in the World War, a group of officers and field clerks have been detailed by the war department to devote their entire energies toward stimulating interest in these awards and facilitating their distribution. The officers, twenty-four in number, have been selected from the general recruiting service of the army which has been temporarily discontinued.

Colonel Charles H. Martin, who until recently has been in charge of recruiting activities, will direct the work of the selected Victory Medal officers. Under Colonel Martin's supervision the country has been divided into six Victory Medal regions, each in charge of an officer who has gained familiarity with his region during the recent recruiting campaigns. To each of these Regional Directors a number of officers and field clerks have been assigned and this organization will endeavor to cover the entire country with the assistance of National Guard Inspector-Instructors and officers detailed to Reserve Officers Training Corps Units.

"Despite the efforts which were made by the army recruiting service to issue the Victory Medal and notwithstanding the hearty co-operation of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and other patriotic societies, the distribution of this award is far from completion. While it is estimated that more than 4,000,000 persons are entitled to the Victory Medal, the total number thus far issued is less than 1,500,000." This statement was made by Colonel Martin in discussing this matter.

"The War Department has studied this question and serious efforts have been made to facilitate the issue of these awards," continued Colonel Martin, "and to remove every possible restriction consistent with a proper valuation of the medal. It would be a grave mistake for the war department to make it possible for unscrupulous persons to receive these medals and it is necessary that the military authorities be morally certain that they are given only to those who are entitled to them. This determination has necessitated certain basic regulations which cannot, in justice to the 4,000,000 veterans, be waived."

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Fewer and Larger Farms.—In 1900 Illinois had 264,151 farms, in 1910, 251,872. In 1920, 237,153. Morgan county had 2666 in 1900; and 2420 in 1920. Evidently we are moving towards fewer and larger farms. Is this change desirable?

Gift Corn.—The managers of the various elevators in Morgan county solved the problem of transporting the gift corn for the Near East and Central Europe by purchasing the donated corn at a figure that will enable us to purchase an equal number of bushels at one point. This certainly shows a fine spirit in our elevator men. As soon as we have all the lists in, we shall be glad to publish a list of those who gave corn or money at the elevators.

Plowing Under Large Amounts of Green Crops.—If large amounts of green crops are plowed under, four conditions may arise to cause injury.

1. If the green crop is allowed to grow too long, it may rob the succeeding crop of moisture.

2. Large amounts of green materials or dry materials when not properly compacted after plowing under are liable to prevent the crop from obtaining sufficient moisture from the layers of the soil.

3. Certain crops undergo an acid fermentation, which, although temporary, persists sufficiently long to seriously injure the crop growth. Green legumes, when plowed under in large amounts, may undergo this kind of decomposition.

4. Plowing under green and dry crops may cause an excessive ammonia accumulation which, like the acid fermentation, is temporary, but again, it also persists sufficiently long to be a most serious cause of injury to germinating seedlings.

How may these causes of injury be avoided? The most important consideration in this respect is to plow the material under as early as possible. A period of seven to ten days should elapse between plowing under green materials and the time of planting. Disking the green crop makes possible the preparation of a better seed bed. Where a green crop has been allowed to grow too long, clipping before plowing will retard the rate of decomposition. Green sweet clover should be plowed under when not over 12 to 16 inches high if a crop is to be planted in 7 to 14 days thereafter.

Spray Schedule for the Farm Orchard.—Not all farmers will find it convenient to apply the full number of sprays recommended for commercial orchards. Exclusive of the dormant spray, the maximum number of sprays for southern section is eight; the minimum is three, viz., the calyx spray, to be applied when the buds of the petals have fallen, using limesulfur, one gallon of liquid of four pounds of dry and one pound of arsenate of lead powder in 50 gallons of water; the three weeks spray to be applied three weeks after the calyx spray, using exactly the same materials and quantities; the ten weeks spray should be applied approximately ten weeks after the calyx spray using only lime and powdered arsenate of lead. One pound of arsenate of lead must be combined with two pounds burnt lime, but if burnt lime cannot be secured, use four pounds of hydrant lime.

The maximum number of sprays recommended for the central and northern sections is six; the minimum is three, as indicated under the southern section. Dry powdered arsenate of lead should be purchased in the large size containers possible to reduce the price. It does not deteriorate upon exposure to air and may therefore be distributed in small paper parcels. The price should not exceed 20c per pound in 200 pound drums and not greater than 30c in 25 pound packages.

Dry lime sulfur should be bought in containers which will not be broken except by the user. The price in 100 pound cans varies from 9 1-2 to 10 1-2 cents in less than car lots.

Spraying Apparatus.—The simplest apparatus consists of a whisk broom and bucket of spray material. The next in order of simplicity is an atomizer spray usually found at any hardware store. Then comes the bucket sprayer, knap-sack sprayer, barrel pump, wheelbarrow barrel combination and finally the power sprayer. Somewhere along the line ought to be found a type within the reach of every householder. Insect pests and plant diseases have become so numerous that it is impossible to do either vegetable or fruit gardening without some sort of spraying apparatus.

Right now is the time to have your braken plows, tractor parts and other farming implements and machinery WELDED for Spring use.

Insect pests and plant diseases have become so numerous that it is impossible to do either vegetable or fruit gardening without some sort of spraying apparatus.

Spraying Materials.—Lime sulphur and arsenate of lead are the most widely used sprays at the present time. The dry lime sulphur has grown in popularity so rapidly that it promises to displace the liquid commercial lime sulphur. Experiments indicate that it is just as effective in combating San Jose scale as the liquid form and is much less expensive to ship. Arsenate of lead is also sold in the dry form and is a standard insecticide for all chewing insects. Combinations of lime sulphur and arsenate of lead are used after buds and leaves are out to combat.

Soil Maps Accurate.—Tuesday the soil was tested on the land farmed by George Garder in the extreme northeastern part of the county. Before making the test, the land was located on the plat-book, and then on the corresponding soil map. There were three types of soil shown on this land and Mr. Garder agreed to the correctness of the soil characteristics indicated there. These maps certainly are a help to a farm adviser in consulting with a farmowner either at the office or on his farm.

Dwarf Apples For City Yards.—There are possibilities in fruit growing worth consideration to the village and city residents. Dwarf apples and dwarf pears require little room, are easy to spray and bear quickly. Why not put a few of these in our back yards? They will not only be pleasant to look at but profitable as well.

Invest In Poultry.—In the various community meetings we have held the fact has ordinarily been brought out that poultry brings more money into the community than cattle. Inquiry at our largest poultry house shows a business of a million dollars per year. This is greater than the annual income from Morgan county wheat crop. The hen certainly plays an important part in the farmers' income.

Healthy Mother Merry Children Happy Home

TO maintain a happy home the housewife must keep in good health. Her duties are many and various, and it seems as if every other member of the family depended very much on her. "Where is my hat?" cries the boy. "What did you do with my coat?" asks the daughter. "I can't find any handkerchiefs," yells the husband. The housewife is usually the advisor and general manager of the family.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women to maintain a happy home by keeping them in good health.

Bloomington, Ill.—"I have taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has done me a wonderful sight of good. I was never very strong and female trouble kept me weak so that I had no interest for my housework. I had such a backache I could not cook a meal or clean up a room without raging with pain. I would ease for a few hours, but after I had taken three bottles of Vegetable Compound my aches began to gradually leave me. Now I am as strong and healthy as any woman and I give my thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my health."—Mrs. J. A. McQuerry, 610 W. Walnut St., Bloomington, Ill.

Dante, So. Dakota.—"I would have pains and cramps every month until I could hardly stand it and could not do my work at all at that time and often had to go to bed. I went to a physician, but he did not do me much good and said I would have to have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspaper and thought I would give it a trial. Now I feel lots better and don't have to give up and go to bed, and can do all my work. You may use these facts as a testimonial, and I will answer with pleasure all letters I receive, and you may be sure I will praise your wonderful medicine."—Mrs. ARTHUR J.
